

Theatre Performances - English Literature Revision

Dear Parents/Carers,

I would like to make you aware that there are some excellent and useful theatre performances of 'Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde' and 'Macbeth' taking place at the Aylesbury Waterside Theatre, in April 2026.

Unfortunately, we would not be able to take the students on a trip at this time as it is too close to the end of their lesson time before they go on study leave, and the priority is to have them in school as much as possible.

Nonetheless, I would highly encourage you to take your children if you can - maybe organise a trip with their friends! The productions are aimed specifically at school children studying these amazing literary texts and are highly acclaimed.

In the meantime, we are investigating the possibility of having some smaller-scale theatrical performances in school of at least one of these texts, both for revision purposes and to bring these significant texts to life. This is not a guaranteed event, but I will try my best to facilitate it!

Yours faithfully,
