

Unseen Talent

Claire Churchill

What is your role?

Drama Technician

How long have you worked here?

Six years.

Where are you based?

Our office is under the fire escape by the Main Hall - a very luxurious ex-toilet block!

Best thing about working at Becky High?

The Drama Department lives up to its name - there's always some fun to be had! And the students' exam performances are often really moving.

Life before Becky High?

I started as a Production Assistant and worked my way up to Television Director at Channel 4, directing Graham Norton, James Corden and Jo Brand amongst many others. I found directing live multi-camera studio discussion programmes really exhilarating. I then ran my own production company making corporate and family films for ten years.

I did a tandem sky dive after seeing Linford Christie do it at the beginning of I'm a Celebrity. He said it was better than winning an Olympic medal, and I thought well I'm unlikely to win an Olympic medal but I reckon I can jump out of an aeroplane!
