1. General Principles

At Beaconsfield High School, we believe that:

- in order to enable effective learning and teaching, good behaviour in all aspects of school life is a basic requirement
- the school will provide a safe environment in which students can learn and teachers can teach
- all students are expected to behave in accordance with The Four Respects, showing respect and courtesy towards each other, the school environment, school staff and members of the local community
- parents/carers should encourage their child to behave appropriately and respectfully and should support the school's authority to discipline students who do not meet expectations

2. Policy aims

Staff, students and Trustees of Beaconsfield High School agree that acceptable behaviour is based on respect, good manners and courtesy, along with attitudes and values, which support learning. Outstanding behaviour builds on this and assumes a heightened level of citizenship, community spirit and independence of thought and action regarding effective learning. Unacceptable behaviour is that which insults, abuses, threatens, intimidates or injures any member of the school or local community, or which disrupts the learning of individuals or their peers.

The aims of our Behaviour for Learning policy and associated procedures are to:

- promote positive and acceptable behaviour and reward outstanding behaviour
- manage unacceptable behaviour in an assertive and non-confrontational way
- encourage consistency of response to both positive and unacceptable behaviour by staff and other students

3. Roles and responsibilities

- Students throughout the school are expected to take responsibility for their own behaviour (within academic and social time) and to meet or go beyond the expectations of the school
- Parents/carers are expected to take responsibility for the behaviour of their child and to assist the school in maintaining high standards through the home/school agreement and other measures such as our guidelines on mobile phone use, our uniform policy and our IT acceptable use policy
- All teaching and support staff are responsible for ensuring the policy and associated procedures are followed consistently. All teaching and support staff are responsible for promoting, managing and rewarding outstanding behaviour and for creating an appropriate learning environment that fosters our Getting Life Ready skills and competencies.
- The Headteacher is responsible for the implementation of this policy and associated procedures, for ensuring consistent application across the school and for supporting staff in their handling of disciplinary situations
- Trustees will support the school staff in maintaining high standards of behaviour. In consultation with staff, they will regularly review and agree a policy, which promotes outstanding behaviour. They will ensure that the policy and expectations are communicated effectively to parents and students

All staff, together with Trustees, will ensure that there is no differential application of the policy and procedures on any grounds, particularly ethnic or national origins, culture, religion, gender, disability or sexuality. Please refer to our Equality Act Statement and Objectives for further details.

4. Relationship to other policies

The implementation of this policy and associated procedures will be undertaken in clear relationship with other school policies, particularly Child Protection, SEN, Anti-bullying, the Equality Act Statement, Exclusion Policy,

Uniform Policy, the Mobile Phone Policy and Acceptable Use Policy. This policy and associated procedures are written with regard to the current legislative context.

5. Managing behaviour

5.1. Promoting positive behaviour

In lessons and around the school, we aim to model and promote outstanding behaviour with each other and with students at every opportunity. Students are encouraged to take responsibility for themselves and others, their learning, and for the environment by:

- taking responsibility for their actions
- demonstrating understanding, tolerance, courtesy and respect towards others
- encouraging the responsible use of communication technologies including social networking
- respecting other people's possessions
- endeavouring to make the school a clean, safe and pleasant place in which to work and learn

We recognise:

- commitment and Getting Life Ready skills and competencies
- academic progress and attainment
- contributions to wider aspects of school life
- success and achievements by individuals and teams within and outside school

We reward positive behaviour with:

- verbal praise and positive feedback
- Getting Life Ready merits and associated house points
- Praise on a Postcard
- GLR Commendations
- Head Teacher Commendations
- house points for achievements outside school
- subject certificates, prizes and awards

5.2. Consequences of unacceptable behaviour

At Beaconsfield High School, we believe that student discipline is primarily a question of relationships rather than rules; the school ethos is that individuals and relationships matter. All staff recognise that an appropriate response with one student in one circumstance may be inappropriate with another student, or in a different situation; they apply professional judgement before implementing sanctions, and take full responsibility for doing so. Student misbehaviour is logged and behaviour points are issued. Our consequences chart details examples of misbehaviour and sanctions. We implement a range of sanctions for unacceptable behaviour including (non-exhaustive):

- behaviour logs and associated behaviour points
- school-community service
- loss of marks for both formative and accredited assessments
- lunchtime detention
- after school detention
- communication/meetings with parents/carers
- restorative justice sessions
- invoicing parents/carers for damage
- short term support with outside agencies
- placing on report

- internal exclusion
- suspension
- permanent exclusion

Parents/carers and students are notified by the school to inform them of detentions, requests for meetings or to report misbehaviour.

Reported incidents of student misbehaviour will be investigated, and where reasonable, evidence from staff statements and the student 'BHS Statement Form' will be completed and signed and dated to ensure that all involved have the chance to say what happened. Where the school considers it appropriate, police and/or other relevant bodies will be informed of incidents and engaged in support for further advice for both students and staff.

5.3. Record keeping

Records are kept of both positive and unacceptable behaviour, together with associated rewards or sanctions. Appropriate levels of confidentiality within the records are observed; behaviour which has warranted a full investigation and sanctions beyond a straightforward behaviour log will be recorded on Edulink/SIMs so any possible pattern can be monitored by the Head of Learning and Pastoral Leads.

5.4. Searching and confiscation

Under section 91 of the Education and Inspections Act 2006, Beaconsfield High School has the general power to discipline a student as appropriate. This general power enables the Headteacher or a designated senior member of staff to confiscate, retain or dispose of a student's property as a disciplinary penalty, where it is reasonable to do so. This right is compatible with article 8 of the European Convention on Human Rights that states students have a right to respect for their private life.

The Headteacher or authorised staff have the statutory power to search a student or their possessions without consent where they have reasonable grounds for suspecting that the student may have a prohibited item. There is no requirement to inform parents or seek their consent before a search is undertaken. Prohibited items are (non-exhaustive):

- knives, blades or weapons
- alcohol
- illegal drugs
- stolen items
- tobacco, cigarette papers, e-cigarettes, vapes or vaping equipment
- fireworks
- pornographic images or articles
- any article that the member of staff reasonably suspects has been, or is likely to be used to commit an offence, or to cause personal injury to or damage the property of any person (including the student)
- any item banned by the School's rules (see consequences chart in Appendix), and identified as an item which may be searched for.

5.5. Confiscation and disposal of suspected illegal drugs

The law permits school staff to take temporary possession of a substance suspected of being an illegal drug for the purposes of preventing an offence from being committed or continued in relation to that drug providing that steps be taken to destroy the drug or deliver it to a person lawfully entitled to take custody of it.

Staff authorised to conduct a search should:

- ensure that a second adult witness is present throughout
- seal any samples found in a plastic bag and include details of the date, time of seizure/find and the witness that is present
- store it in the school safe
- immediately inform the police who will collect and store it. The school does not have to divulge the name of the student(s) from which the drugs were taken. Where a student is named, the police may have to follow a set of internal procedures
- record full details of the incident including the police incident reference number
- inform parents or carers unless it is considered that this would jeopardise the safety of the student

Where the designated person undertaking the search finds other substances, which are not believed to be controlled drugs, these can be confiscated if that person believes them to be harmful or detrimental to good order and discipline. This would include new psychoactive substances or 'legal highs'. If it is not possible to identify the legal status of a drug, it should be treated as a controlled drug. School staff should not attempt to analyse or taste substances.

Items confiscated, because they are banned by the school rules (see consequences chart in Appendix), should be collected by arrangement by parents/carers from the school office. Confiscated weapons, knives and controlled drugs will be handed over to the police. Stolen items discovered during a search should be returned to the owner unless there is an active police investigation or the nature of the stolen item warrants police involvement, in which case the item should be handed to the police.

5.6. Use of reasonable force

The use of force is considered reasonable if it is proportionate to the consequences it is intended to prevent. If a student is considered to be at great risk of hurting themselves or others, all members of school staff have a legal power to use reasonable force without parental/carers consent; this power also applies to people temporarily placed in charge of students by the Headteacher, such as parents/carers accompanying school visits. Reasonable force can also be used to prevent students from damaging property or from causing disorder.

Circumstances in which force might be appropriate include, but are not limited to:

- removing a disruptive student from the classroom where they have refused to follow an instruction to leave
- preventing a student from behaving in a way that disrupts a school event, activity or visit
- preventing a student leaving a classroom where allowing them to leave would risk their safety or lead to disruptive behaviour by others
- preventing a student attacking another person
- stopping a fight

Please refer to the Child Protection policy for further discussion of use of reasonable force.

5.7. Mobile phones and devices

Beaconsfield High School recognises that communication through personal digital devices is part of everyday life for most families. We recognise that parents/ carers in our community feel the need for their children to have access to a mobile phone on their way to and from school for safety and organisational purposes. However, there is growing evidence that excessive and constant use of mobile phones is having a negative impact on children's mental health, their ability to confidently socialise, as well as negative impacts on attainment. Studies show that taking breaks from digital distractions support more balanced emotional states. Other studies, including those referenced by The Lancet and Ofcom, consistently link smartphone use with:

- Increased levels of anxiety and depression.
- Poorer sleep quality.
- Reduced self-esteem, especially through social comparison and online pressures.

Research suggests that reducing access to mobile phones can lead to improvements in wellbeing, especially among younger adolescents. With this in mind, Beaconsfield High School does not allow students to use their mobile phones within school hours and implements a gate-to-gate policy.

Year 7-9 students

All students in Years 7–9 are expected to bring a school-issued signal-blocking mobile phone pouch each day. Phones must be switched off and secured in the pouch on arrival at school and will remain locked until the end of the day. Pouches will be stored in students' bags or lockers throughout the day. The pouches are a standard part of uniform for these year groups and must be purchased via Scopay. By introducing signal blocking pouches, we ensure phones are out of sight and out of mind, allowing students to engage more fully with school life. Moreover, removing access to smartphones during the school day supports safeguarding, aligns with our values, and supports a more respectful and safe school culture.

By September 2027 all students in Years 7-11 will be using mobile phone pouches.

Students with medical conditions that require the use of a mobile phone such as diabetes are known to the school. There is a medical pouch to purchase in instances of diabetes or other documented medical conditions requiring access to phones during the school day. This will enable students to access devices during the school day in order to manage specific medical conditions.

Year 10 and 11

Students are allowed to bring their mobile phone to the school site, but the device must be switched off and not seen or heard during the school day. Our 'gate-to-gate' policy is clear; phones are switched off and must remain out of sight on entry to school. Students are not permitted to use their mobile phone onsite for any purpose.

Other devices such as earphones are also to be stored in bags for the duration of the school day and smart watches should not be used for communicating. Students will be directed by teachers if their earphones are recommended for use in lessons with the school PCs or the students' personal digital device (BYOD).

To avoid confusion, we cannot accept a child's mobile phone as their personal digital device (BYOD). Please see the BYOD Policy for guidance on the device specifications required.

The school employs rigorous filtering and monitoring software to ensure that students using the school's network are safeguarded; any concerns flagged up are reported to the Designated Safeguarding Lead for investigation and appropriate action.

The school cannot take responsibility for material a student has accessed if they have chosen to use a VPN (Virtual Private Network), but will still take action if this constitutes a safeguarding concern.

5.8. Social media

Parents/carers are advised about online safety at Welcome Evenings and receive regular information via the Head teacher's updates. Links to relevant organisations such as the NSPCC and CEOP can be found on the Safeguarding page on the school's website; these provide parents/carers with key advice.

It is not the school's responsibility to monitor a student's social media use, but there is a need for parents/carers and the school to collaborate on making sure students are making sensible choices and are within the framework of the age restrictions of the different social media platforms; friendship issues and other related concerns conducted via social media both within and beyond school are therefore not within the remit of the school to respond to unless there is a clear impact upon a student's behaviour and attitudes within school.

Further clarification about specific behaviour linked to mobile phone and social media use can be found on the Consequences Chart in the Appendix.

5.9. Detention

Although there is no legal requirement to seek parental/carer consent for student detention, Beaconsfield High School takes the view that it is good practice to do so. Where possible, parents/carers will usually be given 24 hours' notice for detentions outside the normal school day.

5.10. Power to discipline 'beyond the school gate'

This policy and the associated procedures extend to all non-criminal unacceptable student behaviour, which might occur off the school site and is witnessed by a member of staff or reported to the school. The policy applies when the student poses a threat to others or adversely affects the reputation of the school and is:

- taking part in any school-organised activity
- is part of a school visit whether in or outside the UK
- travelling to or from school
- wearing school uniform; or identifiable as a student at the school

5.11. Involvement of outside agencies

When appropriate, the school will seek the support of outside agencies in implementing procedures to ensure the needs of every student are met. Records of referrals to outside agencies will be maintained, and all relevant staff will be kept informed.

Examples may include educational psychologists, behaviour support services, child protection agencies, the police including the Safer Schools Officer, social services, Barnardo's/RUSafe, Family Support, Early Help and services linked to Bucks Local Offer.

6. Allegations of abuse by staff

Allegations of abusive behaviour by staff will be dealt with quickly, fairly and consistently. Every effort will be made to protect the student, support the member of staff and secure confidentiality.

According to guidance provided under the 'Dealing with allegations of abuse against Teachers and Other Staff' (October 2012), the DfE advise that suspension will not be an automatic response to an allegation; where a member of staff is suspended, this will be a neutral act to enable a fair and thorough investigation to take place.

The Education Act 2011 introduced reporting restrictions preventing the publication of any material that may lead to the identification of a teacher who has been accused by, or on behalf of, a pupil from the same school

(where that identification would identify the teacher as the subject of the allegation). Beaconsfield High School considers the need to maintain anonymity of staff involved vital whilst any investigation is undertaken.

Students who are found, on investigation, to have made malicious accusations will be excluded for an appropriate length of time.

7. Staff training

The school provides relevant information and training on behaviour management to all staff.

When relevant the school will provide opportunities for staff to develop their knowledge and skills in relation to:

- the implementation of rewards and sanctions in accordance with this policy
- recording of incidents
- classroom management
- educational visits
- legislation affecting behaviour management

Staff receive Pastoral/Safeguarding training on a three-weekly basis; any changes to behaviour policy or protocols is communicated to them via meetings and bulletins. Heads of Learning meet their pastoral teams every three weeks as well to discuss behaviour and other pastoral issues.

Staff updates include any revisions to policy in light of changes to 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' such as the addition of child-on-child abuse as concerns in many schools. As part of their Safeguarding training, staff are asked to consider whether unacceptable behaviour could be a sign of some form of child protection concern.

8. Review

The Headteacher and Leadership Team will undertake systematic monitoring and review of the Behaviour for Learning policy and procedures.

The Trustees will regularly review the implementation and effectiveness of this policy. Responsibility for the detailed consideration of the policy will be delegated to the Education & Outcomes Committee.
